MINISTRIES

September 30, 2002

Dear Pastor,

One of the great needs of the 21st Century's growing church is that of obtaining finances for property, buildings, and expansion.

It is without reservation that I recommend Mr. Marv Hoeflinger and Church Consulting Services as a proven leader in this needed area of ministry.

Marv Hoeflinger's track record of over two decades is seated in personal integrity, honesty, hard work, and just plain results.

He excels in working with a ministries leadership team, creative financing within budget scores, and the present "pointing" of a ministry for future growth.

Simply, when a pastor or ministry team needs to obtain the money to finance their next growth project – they should contact Marv Hoeflinger and Church Consulting Services.

He has obtained the finances needed in our last two building and growth phases. I have watched him work successfully with determined commitment with small and large projects. He has that unexplainable quality of maximizing results while minimizing costs.

Brethren, use Church Consulting Services and this man.

Yours For Souls,

David A. Wood
